

Partner with us to build a more human world, where young minds become their own employers.

A startup since 2014, Incred today builds RFB golf putters and software that runs golf courses around the world, with a team of 20 highly experienced engineers. Now we open our live products to students.

What your college and students get

01

Real-world workshop, not theory

How real software is built and shipped. No coaching-style theory or PPTs.

02

Paid internships for your students

2 interns per college at ₹10,000 a month, trained on live company work.

03

A path to a full-time role

Strong performers may be hired at up to ₹22,500 a month, when few hire freshers.

04

Edge-to-edge technology

Frontend, backend, DevOps, cloud and security: what companies need now.

05

A share in what they build

Students get a share in the funded, investor-backed projects they work on.

06

Self-made employment

Backed by us, students turn project work into careers of their own.

The stack students will work on
